

“Humans of Lymphoma” is an online portal with a focus on Lymphoma, a type of cancer. It aims to bring awareness of the disease through real-life stories of Lymphoma patients, their families and friends, doctors, nurses, and caregivers as an attempt to shine the spotlight not just on patients but the entire support system around them. I aspire to bring 20-25 stories by the end of 2025, and many more thereafter.
